

NAB has no right to even attempt to regulate XM (or Sirius) radio. If they're that threatened by those independent boadcasters, then they should have straightened out and improved their own business. Competition makes this country what it is. NAB shouldn't go around bullying other companies because they might be competition.

I will boycott all local NAB broadcasts in favor of XM.

This is just nonesense.